

 SMALL BUSINESS NETWORKS

IT Issues Giving You A Headache? Making IT Work For You and Your Business.

Advances in technology have leveled the playing field for the small and medium sized enterprise. The internet gives your organization instant access to wider markets and customers today. Many businesses already have the technology in place and it is a case of ensuring this hardware and software operate as an integrated resource to support, develop or win you more business.

At PW Comms we have the expertise and experience to maximize the return on your investment in IT. Get it right and the world is your oyster. The problem is the world is full of people selling jargon not business solutions, features not benefits. It's no wonder that sorting out IT often slips down the agenda.

With PW Comms's hands on approach we work with you to build your IT infrastructure to deliver what your business needs. Utilising PW Comms's Network Audit Service we will identify the relevant areas in your networking including:

Remote Access

Working on the move be it from home, on the road, at your customers/clients or simply away from the office. At PW Comms we can provide a simple and effective system to allow your employees access to your network on the move at any time of day or night. Mobile efficiency will save your organization money.

Email

Creating a system for communication and real time contact, eliminating spam and allowing your customers access to the right resources in your company.

Security

Protecting your data from threats such as viruses, junk email and hardware failure is a key element in making your IT infrastructure work for your business. Using the same tools and software utilized by the multi national corporates PW Comms can provide safe and secure access to sensitive information so it is only the people you want to have access to your company's information.

Off Site Data Storage

A staggering 47% of companies never perform any type of backup. What would happen if you lost, say, your stock records, client/customer information, payroll record to fire of theft? At PW Comms our secure off data storage can be rented on a per Gig/per month basis with automatic backup of your data on a daily basis. Ensures in the event of failure, for what whatever reason, your IT is up and working instantly.

Not Another Printer!

Sharing files, sharing printers, building a web site, running a database, share internet connections. When do we need a new server, another server? Can we integrate wireless in the office? With PW Comms Network Audit Service we can build a simple, cost effective and user friendly IT network that replicates the way your business works and can grow with you. Maximising the return you get from your investment in IT without the hassle.
